Anna Gałęziowska-Krzystolik

By profession – a romanist, for the past ten years she has been working with foreign students in the School of Polish Language and Culture at the University of Silesia.

„This job has become my passion. I hand down my knowledge of Polish language and our reality, but also thanks to these contacts I get to know the culture and history of other countries."

She has run classes at universities and in the centers of Polish culture in France, Germany, Brazil, Russia, Moldova, and in Ukraine.

She is the author of articles on Polish politeness in comparative perspective, especially contrasted with French rules of politeness, on the use of simplified texts and films in the process of teaching Polish language as foreign. She is also the co-author of the textbook for learning Polish for students from China.
